Denny Sturdevant (1958-1975)

A true friend never dies,
He only fades away,
As did our classmate Denny,
Who left us here this day.

We all will miss him dearly,
Yet no answers will be sought,
As to the key of joy and peace,
For the happiness he brought.

He's dwelling now in lands untold,
Of sweetness bye and bye,
Free of sorrow, pain, or fear,
I'm sure he's home on high.

He left a hole in all our hearts,
No one will ever fill,
I know somehow he is a part,
Of God's great and holy will.

—Deb Carpenter

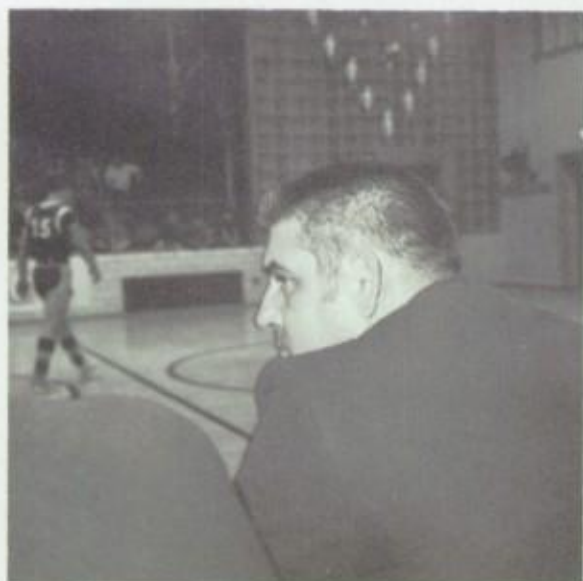

Dedications

Mr. Kovach is a very thoroughly educated and dedicated man. We have found that he is never too busy to listen and help and it need not be in school time. Day or night he has given an understanding ear to any with problems. To you, Mr. Kovach, we extend our heart-felt thanks for being yourself. Our dedication to you is small compared to your dedication to us.

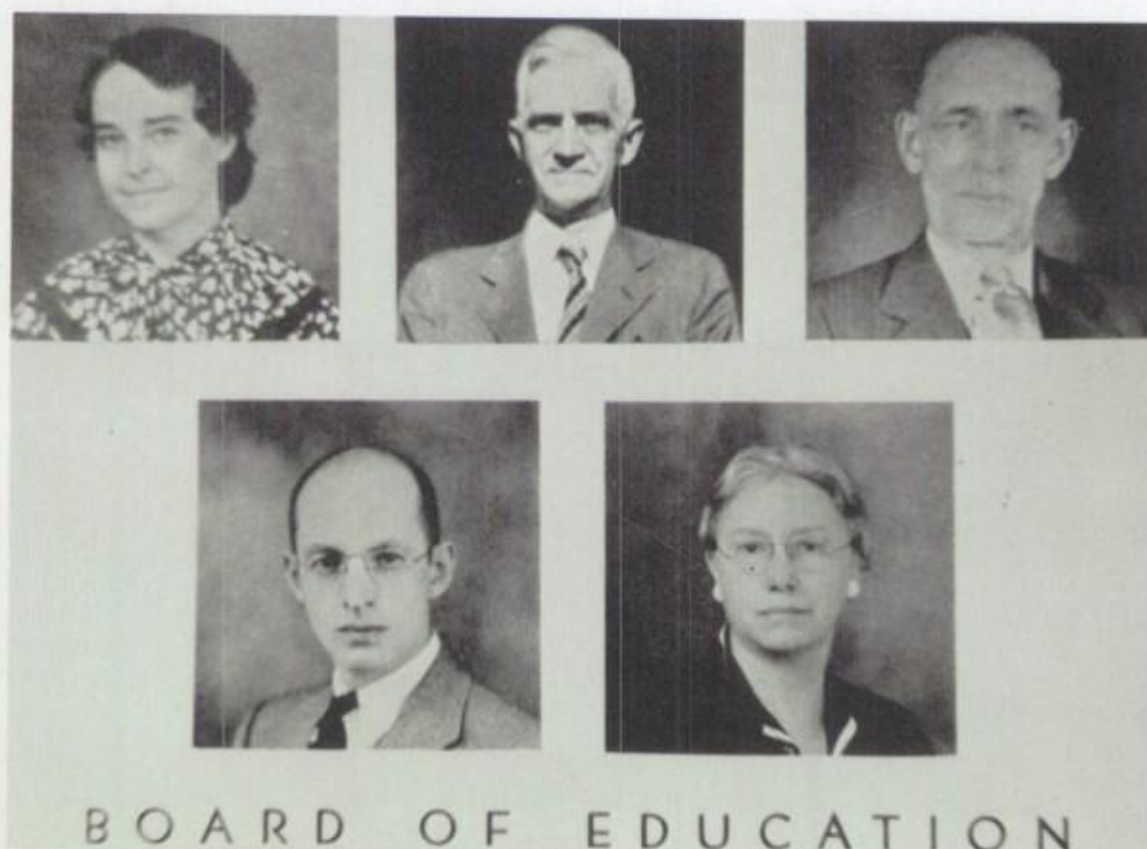

Mr. Smith in the years he has been with us has proved to be a man dedicated to his work. He has proved to us that he is bright and knows his subject. He stands for no nonsense but has always been willing to give of his time and knowledge to those who ask. He has put spirit in our basketball program and we are glad he is here. Mr. Smith, we salute you!

First Miss America 1880

Yes, the young lady in the back seat of this “surrey with the fringe on top” was indeed the first Miss America. In those days she was called “Miss United States—the most beautiful unmarried woman in our nation.” Her name was Myrtle Meriwether and she came from Shingle House, Pa. She went to Rehoboth, Del. where the contest was held to attend the convention of the Business Women’s League in northern Pennsylvania of which she was corresponding secretary. She entered the contest just for fun and when the contest was over discovered to her surprise that she had won first place. Thomas Edison was one of the judges. To qualify the girls had to be single, not more than 25, minimum height five feet four, maximum weight 130 pounds. The contestants were judged on the basis: Poise, face, figure, hands, feet, hair, carriage, grace, with costume rated 50 per cent. The prize was a gilded plaque and a $300 complete bridal trousseau. Myrtle sold her winning costume at half price the next day to pay her bills and returned home to her quiet life in a Shingle House that was very much smaller than it is today.

Senior

Dave Pease and Terry Murray received certificates for attending the Science and Humanities Symposium at Penn State. The symposium consisted of three days of lecture and classes.

Kay Stonemetz received the Delta Kappa Gamma Award this year. It was presented by the Pi Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society which is an International honorary society for women teachers. One hundred dollars is awarded to a senior girl chosen among girls from Tioga and Potter counties. It is given on the basis of her character, scholastic standing and accomplishments. The one stipulation is that she be enrolled in a college with, preferably, a teaching profession in mind.

The Senior Music Award is given to the person with outstanding music ability. Karmon Wood is this year's recipient.

Awards

The English Award goes to the best students in English Composition. This was the first year for this award and the recipients were Diane Howard and Kay Stonemetz.

The athlete of the year is the person with over-all athletic ability. This year, we had two winners, Joyce Higley and Bill Simpson. Their names are on a plaque in the school show case.

The yearbook award is presented to the most devoted and enthusiastic workers on the staff. This year, Vicki West, Robin Appleby, and Mark Howard were the recipients.

Senior

Kay Stonemetz and Terry Murray received the Danforth Foundation Award. It was established as a challenge for students to strive for excellence in qualities of leadership, service, scholarship, and general character.

Business Awards in Typing II and Office Practice are awarded to students who've done work for teachers over a two and three year period, respectively. It involves the best average over a two year period in Bookkeeping. This year recipients were, Deanna Van Pelt, Tammy Lyautey, Valerie Howard, and Charlene Austin.

Jerri Gross won a $100 savings bond for her editorial on China. She took second place in Potter County.

Awards Cont.

Joyce Higley received the Senior of the Year Award for 1975. She has character, personality, and she was in several extra curricular activities.

The Bausch-Lomb Honorary Science Award is presented to the student who maintains the best high school average in Math and Science. This year it was presented to David Pease.

General Activities

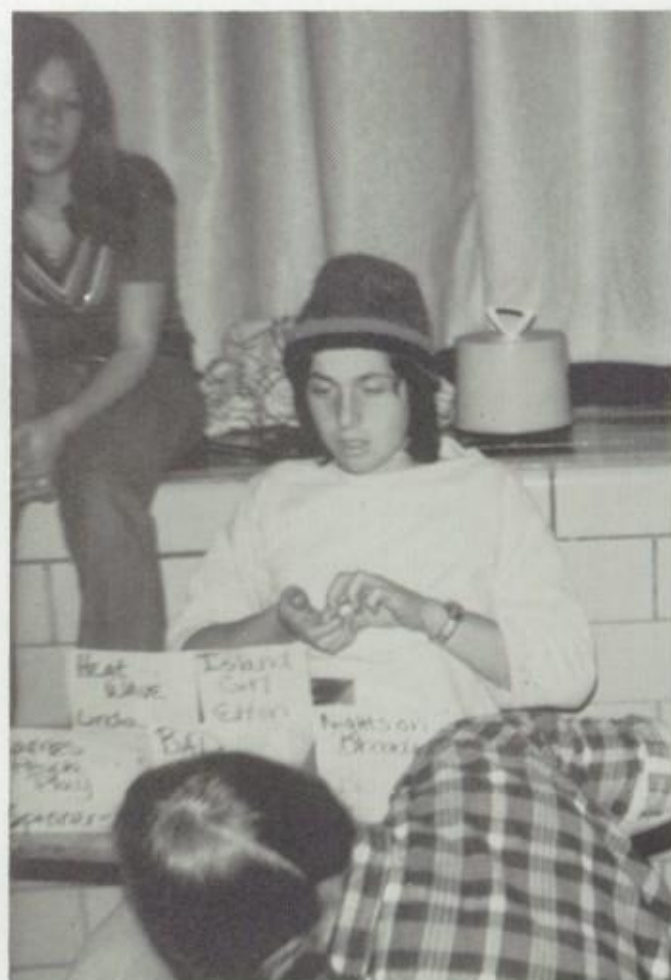

Mr. Edward Cosslett

Mr. Cosslett was for many years the elementary principal in our system. His last year in our school was the first year for the Class of 1975. His untimely passing left the field of education with one less fine, dedicated man. We remember him with respect and affection and have desired that this small tribute to him be placed in our book of memories.

Marco

This year Oswayo Valley is hosting its first exchange student. Marco Maffei came from Italy and is spending the year with the Raymond Carlsons. We are very proud to have Marco in our school.
